

Tastentage Brunch at the Kesslerhof

Last Sunday there was an excellent performance by the king of the Schwyzerörgeli Markus Flückiger and “Ambäck” alongside a sumptuous Brunch banquet put on by the Kessler family.

Clair Southwell

Markus Flückiger was magical on the Schwyzerörgeli accompanied by the talented duo Andreas Gabriel (violin) and Pirmin Huber (double bass). This Trio has played a key role in shaping the great hype about New Swiss Folk Music in recent years. It is precisely that they can master the traditional repertoire so confidently, that they can expand it with great sovereignty losing themselves in artistic improvisations, that move easily between tradition and contemporary folk music. Music is a true discovery beyond all conventions and the violin and Schwyzerörgeli meet each other in a brilliantly and imaginatively way which is totally complimented by the bass.

The two weekends of the Tastentage have been hugely successful with wonderful and unique artists and concerts in different venues around Klosters. Many congratulations to Christof Hegi and the Kulturgesellschaft Klosters for their commitment to this event and all the sponsors, patrons, helpers, and everyone who supports this great gala of such a wide range of music.

www.tastentage.ch

